FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Campbell County Animal Care and Control Offering Free Pet Adoptions

RUSTBURG, VA – Campbell County Animal Care and Control is now offering free pet adoption services to local citizens. Individuals and families may visit the Animal Care and Control Facility, (during regular operating hours) to choose a pet for adoption, contingent upon the completion and signing of an adoption contract, indicating that the animal will be:

- spayed/neutered
- vaccinated for rabies by a licensed veterinarian
- and properly licensed in accordance with local laws/codes.

Please note that any veterinary or licensing expenses are the responsibility of the adopting party.

This service is offered on a “first-come, first-served” basis. As animals sheltered at the Campbell County facility are required to be held for five days (stray animal) or ten days (collared animal), those selecting a specific pet may begin the paperwork process and return at the end of the holding period to collect the chosen dog or cat. Animals sheltered for the duration of the confinement period are available for immediate adoption, upon completion of the necessary forms.

For additional information on the pet adoption process, citizens may contact or visit the:
