

POSITIVE PARENTING 2012

CAMPBELL COUNTY PARENT EDUCATION

A series of FREE Parenting Education Classes will be offered at the Campbell County Department of Social Services Building in Rustburg. Parents of children any age are encouraged to participate. That includes all parents: married, single, step, grand and custodial.

Topics of instruction will include: self-esteem, role modeling, communication, discipline techniques, sibling rivalry, stress management, and children in the middle. Classes offer a variety of lectures, discussions, videos and activities.

To register or obtain further information, please contact Mark Yudowitch (434-332-9752) at Social Services by February 1. Please leave your name and telephone number. While priority is given to Campbell County residents, others may attend as space is available.
