Why join the retirement plan?

If you plan to rely solely on your pension and Social Security benefits for income, you could face a potential gap in your budget.

Your income gap could be up to 20% at retirement. Here's why:

80% to 90%

Amount of your income at retirement that experts say you may need to maintain your standard of living in retirement¹

70%

Amount of income at retirement that your pension and Social Security benefits (if any) may provide^{2,3}

59

Age at which most public employees retire⁴; first responders tend to retire around age 55, well before the age to qualify for Social Security benefits⁵

Potentially making that gap even larger are other factors such as:

- Out-of-pocket medical costs
- Inflation
- Not qualifying for full benefits
- Outliving your resources
- Needing long-term care
- Planning for major trips and other activities

Your deferred compensation plan was built for this.

When you join the plan, you can begin to fill the potential gap between the retirement benefits you can expect and the income you might need.

You could grow quite a gap filler after 25 years of investing through your retirement plan.

$25 per pay  $51,727

$50 per pay  $103,454

$100 per pay  $206,908

This hypothetical illustration shows how much various deferral amounts per biweekly paycheck for 25 years could accumulate, given an 8% annual rate of return for an investor. This example is not a yield projection for any specific investment. If fees, taxes and expenses were reflected, the return would be less.

Why join now?

The secret ingredient of long-term savings is time.

The more time you give your savings to potentially grow, the easier it is to contribute enough per pay period to potentially meet your future needs.

How much should you save?

While this decision is unique to each employee, we offer two online tools that can help you decide:
